WHEREAS, other adjacent municipalities also discharge stormwater to these “impaired” streams and are under the same regulatory obligations; and

WHEREAS, the City of Coatesville has been a participant for 0 years in the Christina Basin TMDL Implementation Partnership (CTIP), and wishes to continue its participation in this partnership, which is now the Christina Watersheds Partnership, to continue working with 32 other municipalities within the Christina Watersheds to exchange information, collaborate and coordinate on water quality improvements and related activities to address these regulatory obligations; and

WHEREAS, the townships and boroughs in the Christina Watersheds recognize that working together to meet these regulatory requirements by developing watershed-level plans involving multiple Pennsylvania municipalities will, in principal, identify where collaboration among the municipalities could result in cost savings and better water quality outcomes, and result in more efficient and effective stormwater pollution reduction measures; and
